New important publication!

CLIR has just finished publishing the first volume of Promise and Deliverance in Spanish. This work was published many years ago in Spanish, and never again. CLIR obtained the publishing rights, and we are proud to say that once again this fine series will be available for teachers and church leaders. S.G. DeGraaf traces God's redemption plan through the Old and New Testaments, focusing especially on the themes of "covenant", "mediator", and of course, Jesus Christ!

This year CLIR celebrates 20 years of service to the churches in Latin America. We have printed a special anniversary edition, complete with - yes - a silver embossed "20", created and stamped in our printshop. Lester is the magician, and puts our great big 3 ton embossing machine to good use! (If you are reading this in black and white, you can see a color version on our website - MUCH NICER!)

More volunteer help!

CLIR has been blessed this year with many, willing volunteers! To your right, Cassy, Heather and Melissa (from Michigan) are binding books with our hot-melt binder - ALL BY THEMSELVES! If you could see the machine, you would know that this is a bit scary. But nothing phases these girls! A big "Thank you" to all three! (you can see a video of them on our website)

Important conferences and meetings coming up - Please pray!

Pastor Donald Herrera and I will travel to Tabasco, Mexico the end of April for a week of conferences. Rev. Herrera is a long-time translator for CLIR, teaches Bible at our high school, and has been an invaluable asset to our ministry. We will both speak at the annual church-education conference, as well as preach and teach for other groups in Tabasco.

One highlight of the trip will be meetings with four presbytery (classis) Executive Committees with the purpose of integrating these presbyteries more closely with CLIR, in both conferences and publications. One presbytery has already committed regular offerings for CLIR. Praise the Lord for these confirmations of CLIR's ministry, and please pray for fruit upon our labors.

Last year's conference in Tabasco - over 100 church educators attended!

Al Rumph and Paul Wagenmaker from our JVC mission committee visited Costa Rica for meetings and evaluation. Here they are supervising Lester as he embosses covers!

Please pray!

- * As we celebrate Easter, we must all praise the Lord for Christ's victory over sin, the devil, and the grave. Even though the spiritual battle seems to intensify, we know that Christ has won!
- * Please pray for CLIR and the Tepeyac Christian school, that all involved will be blessed with God's wisdom and strength.

Thank you! For your gifts and offerings toward the ministry in Costa Rica. There is much to do, and God has opened the doors wide. Let us press forward!
